

CODE RED Climate and Methane Pollution

BRIEFING

Western States Leading the Way on Climate and Methane

What federal agencies can learn from state action to cut climate-damaging emissions from the oil and gas sector

Join the Virtual Briefing
with

Tiffany Polak, Deputy Director of the New Mexico Oil Conservation Division

Robyn Wille, Chief Strategy Officer, Air Pollution Division,
Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

Councilmember Laurie Anderson, City and County of Broomfield, Colorado

Moderator: Gwen Lachelt, Western Leaders Network

Thursday, August 25, 2022
1:00 p.m. (Mountain)

Now that President Biden has signed historic climate legislation into law, the real work begins to put this law into action. Two federal rules to reduce climate-damaging oil and gas emissions are being drafted at the EPA and BLM, both of which are vital to addressing the climate emergency. Firstly, these rules must be as strong or more robust than the standards recently passed in New Mexico and Colorado. Secondly, the new regulations must be released for public comment as soon as possible, so we can get on track to meet our national climate objectives.

Join us and learn how you can help make these standards the best they can be.

click to register

Tiffany Polak

Robyn Wille

Laurie Anderson

westernleaders.org

Western Leaders Network is a nonpartisan nonprofit organization of 450 local and tribal elected officials across the Interior West working to advance conservation initiatives and climate solutions. *Presenters do not necessarily endorse all of WLN's positions.

